Part of the European Union funded Skills and Technical Education Programme (STEP) in Malawi. The Gender Responsive and Inclusive TEVET Training Curriculum: Instructors' Handbook is designed to help you understand gender concepts; appreciate the gender equality situation at present in Malawi and the role of TEVET in improving equality among women and men in Malawi. Further, the handbook aims at equipping TEVET instructors with knowledge and skills in gender-responsive pedagogy which can be used to improve the quality of learning for men and women alike. It is expected that the handbook can support instructors to create classroom and workshop environments that accommodate men and women and provide them with conditions that promote equal opportunities for learning.
